Home Alone at The McCallister House

Every holiday, Home Alone fans of all ages tune in to revisit the beautiful home of Kevin McCallister and his family. Released in 1990, the movie became a timeless classic and one of the highest-grossing comedies ever. With most of the story taking place inside or around the house, this big, cosy home is the perfect setting for rib-cracking laughs and stunts, skilfully orchestrated by an 8-year-old protagonist armed with paint cans, firecrackers and a pet tarantula on the loose.

A replica of the house was built in an old Chicago high school-turned-production office for all interior shots. Decorated in warm red and green tones everywhere, from walls, carpets, pots and pans to the scary furnace in the basement, everything screams the holidays.

Deck the halls with booby traps

Contrary to what the rest of the family gives Kevin credit for, he is one savvy kid. With everyone else gone, he rises to the occasion and spares no efforts as he defends his home from two ill-tempered, extremely persistent robbers, 'The Wet Bandits' and, ultimately, finds the true meaning of Christmas.

Retrace Kevin's ingenious battle plan as you build and recreate your favourite scenes and stunts from the movie.

FUNCTIONS
Lift the roof and split the walls down the middle to open sideways and reveal the complete interior. Each floor is modular and lets you access any part of the house.

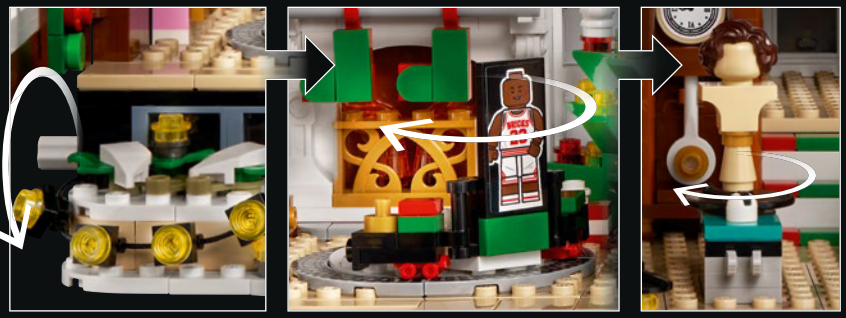
Map out Kevin's battle plan

Set Harry's hat on fire

Recreate the 'scream scene'

Mess up Buzz's room: Pull the knob on the back of the house to make the shelves in Buzz's bedroom collapse.

Knock out Marv: Turn the lever in the kitchen cabinet to release the iron and knock Marv out in the basement.



Throw a fake Christmas party: Turn the gearwheel on the side to spin the train with the cardboard figurine and the record player with the mannequin.

Help Kevin escape: Hook the zipline from the attic window to the treehouse.

Meet Alex Storozhuk

LEGO® Ideas fan designer Alex Storozhuk lives in Ukraine with his wife, Nadia, and their daughter, Anna. He's studying for a PhD in medicine while working remotely for a freight brokerage company. The family loves going on road trips and building LEGO sets together. Like many other kids of the 90s, Alex grew up watching Home Alone during the holidays.

"Home Alone has a very special place in my heart. I can't even imagine the holidays without it. It's delightfully nostalgic and brings back warm childhood memories every time I watch it. Last Christmas, Nadia and I were watching it and I thought 'Why is there no LEGO Home Alone set? I was thrilled by the amount of Easter eggs, details and traps from the movie I could include in a model. I found the McCallisters' house blueprint online, used that and the movie as references and built the model in LEGO Digital Designer and later in Studio 2.0. It took a few weeks to complete rendering. I wanted to get it as close to the original plan as possible, and to scale. The second floor was the biggest challenge! But I really like the kitchen and, of course, Kevin's treehouse and zip line. I think it turned out to be pretty recognisable."

The LEGO® battle plan designers

"Alex did a great job incorporating so many features and details in his model and showing its potential. We were able to add an additional floor, the basement, and incorporate all the cool functions in it without raising the house too much. We even added a few references from Home Alone 2: Lost in New York. It's such a satisfying building and play experience."

-- Antica Bracanov, LEGO® Ideas Model Designer

"Everyone in our design team is so passionate about the movie. What makes this set special is that it truly captures the essence of the movie, with iconic details and booby trap action fans will love. Alex's idea to split the house was brilliant and inspired us to make the final model as accessible as possible with the opening walls. We used new building techniques to make the walls solid and stable in any position."

-- Enrique Belmonte Beixer, LEGO Ideas Model Designer

"Step into Kevin's shoes, set up traps and release mayhem on the bandits, ride your sled down the staircase and eat ice cream for dinner! I wanted to include as many details of the house interior as possible. My favourite is Marv's head, with his funny expression on one side and the iconic iron mark on the other."

-- Kirsten Bay Nielsen, LEGO Ideas Graphic Designer
